Description

Incoming Partners is a Destination Management Company focused on Italy and European destinations. We specialize in the organization of exclusive tailor made corporate events and tours organizing study visits and technical meetings in Italian laboratories, farms and companies related to all the segments of Expo themes as agriculture, farming, food industry, energy. As leading and specialized DMC in organization of technical study tours to Italy, Incoming Partners is the right partner for delegations looking for a complete experience of tourism, study and professional exchange. A new approach to professional tourism: we combine our experience in corporate travel management with the knowledge of local excellences, in order to turn a study tour into a real business matching experience. Our expertise encompasses a wide range of business sectors, with a special focus on agro-industry, water and clean energy. Incoming Partners is founder member of SYMBIOS (System for Market BIOeconomy Solution), the first Italian enterprise network for the promotion of scientific and technical tourism in the fields of agro-food industry, green chemistry and bio-economy. Mission of Symbios is to create an innovative marketplace, hub of professional relationships between Italian excellences in the agro-food supply chain and the international demand. The target will be reached through, meetings, seminars, workshops and knowledge sharing study visits.
